

RUTGERS

Graduate School of Education

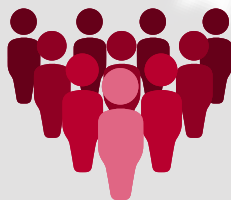

The Graduate School of Education offers over a dozen 5-year joint bachelor's, master's, and initial teacher certification programs. Each is designed to provide students with the opportunity for real-world practice while positioning them at the cusp of cutting-edge research in their field of interest.

This blend of theory and practice—facilitated by world-class faculty and paired with the GSE's community-wide commitment to equity and social justice—equips alumni with a holistic understanding of the current state of education and the specialized skills needed to set them apart from their peers and fellow job-seekers. The New Jersey Department of Education reports that graduates of Rutgers' teacher education programs consistently have the highest rate of job placement in New Jersey school districts.
